Steel Wage Talks Resume Following Plea From Ike

WESTERN MINISTERS TO NEGOTIATE ON OFFER OF "STANDSTILL AGREEMENT"

Blast Furnaces At Fairless Banked

MORRISVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Furnaces were banked today at the Fairless Works of U. S. Steel Co., in anticipation of a steel strike at midnight tomorrow.

The process of shutting down the plant began shortly after midnight. It will continue right up until the strike deadline.

A company spokesman said the process started with lengthening the coking cycle and banking the blast furnaces.

"By Tuesday midnight all will be banked," the spokesman said.

There are 78 coke ovens to be shut down, three blast furnaces and nine open hearth furnaces to be banked at this Bucks County plant.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP)—Western foreign ministers hopefully decided to take the initiative today and seek agreement with the Soviet Union on a plan for shelving the Berlin crisis.

In a reversal of their earlier stand, U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his British and French colleagues were reported ready to negotiate with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko on his offer of a Berlin standstill agreement.

But they want the proposed moratorium to run for at least 30 months, instead of the 18 months offered by Gromyko, and they want a pledge of Soviet respect for Western rights in Berlin.

Herter was designated in a Western strategy meeting to lead the Western campaign when the Big Four conference reopened after a three-week recess.

Western diplomats said that in his leadoff speech Herter would offer certain inducements such as a cut in troop strength in West Berlin.

Herter and his colleagues want to know whether in accepting a moratorium with a deadline they would, in the Soviet view, be agreeing to give up their rights when the deadline expires.

If a Berlin compromise can be arranged, an East-West agreement on a summit conference to be held in the next two or three months seems certain.

In the first round of the conference the Western ministers refused even to discuss Gromyko's proposal to maintain the status quo in West Berlin for 18 months. They insisted the U.S.S.R. must guarantee Western access to West Berlin until Germany was reunified.

"Although I do not come here with high hopes," Herter said on his return Sunday, "I believe it is possible, with good will on both sides, to reach an agreement."

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville declared that "this time perhaps it will be possible to arrive at a limited concrete arrangement on the problems before us."

Gromyko was silent over the weekend after his return from Frol Kozlov, first deputy Soviet premier, said in New York that the Soviet Union's offer of an 18-month stop gap arrangement was still open.

Moscow Says Space Dogs Brought Back

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union rocketed two dogs into space July 10 and brought them back to earth, Moscow radio said today.

The broadcast said the dogs were carried aloft in a ballistic rocket weighing 2,200 kilograms—4,845 pounds.

Quoting an official Tass dispatch, the radio said a quantity of equipment was also parachuted back to earth.

The first announcement gave no details of the height attained by the rocket.

One of the dogs, Daring, was making its fourth ascent into space, Tass said.

State V.F.W. Is Opposed to New Pension Measure

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The State Veterans of Foreign Wars is opposed to a revised veterans' pension bill which has passed the House and is pending in the Senate.

A resolution opposing the bill was adopted Saturday at the close of the group's 40th annual convention. Rep. James E. Van Zant (R-Pa.) said the bill would divide the veterans of World War I into two groups.

He said benefits would be increased slightly to the first group but the bill would provide a sliding scale of benefits for the second group.

In other action, the group chose John J. Piparato, 42, of Bethlehem as state commander to succeed Dr. John C. Cavanaugh of Hop Bottom. Piparato was unopposed.

Leonard R. Santore, 40, Greensboro, was named senior vice commander. Mrs. Ellen Schwartz of York was installed as president of the auxiliary.

Honeymooners In Bomb-Shelter Tired But Happy

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The nation's first bomb-shelter honeymooners kept house today in fortress-like privacy 10 feet under Miami's sun-baked flatlands.

Melvin Mininson, 28, and his bride, Maria Rodriguez, 27, of Tampa, hope to spend two weeks in their room-sized, steel and concrete bower to publicize bomb shelters and civil defense. If they stick it out, sponsors of the stunt promised them a second honeymoon in Jamaica.

The Mininsons inched down a hatchway ladder into the shelter about 5 p.m. Sunday. At 9:30, telephone callers reported, they were asleep and none too happy over being awakened for a check on their well being.

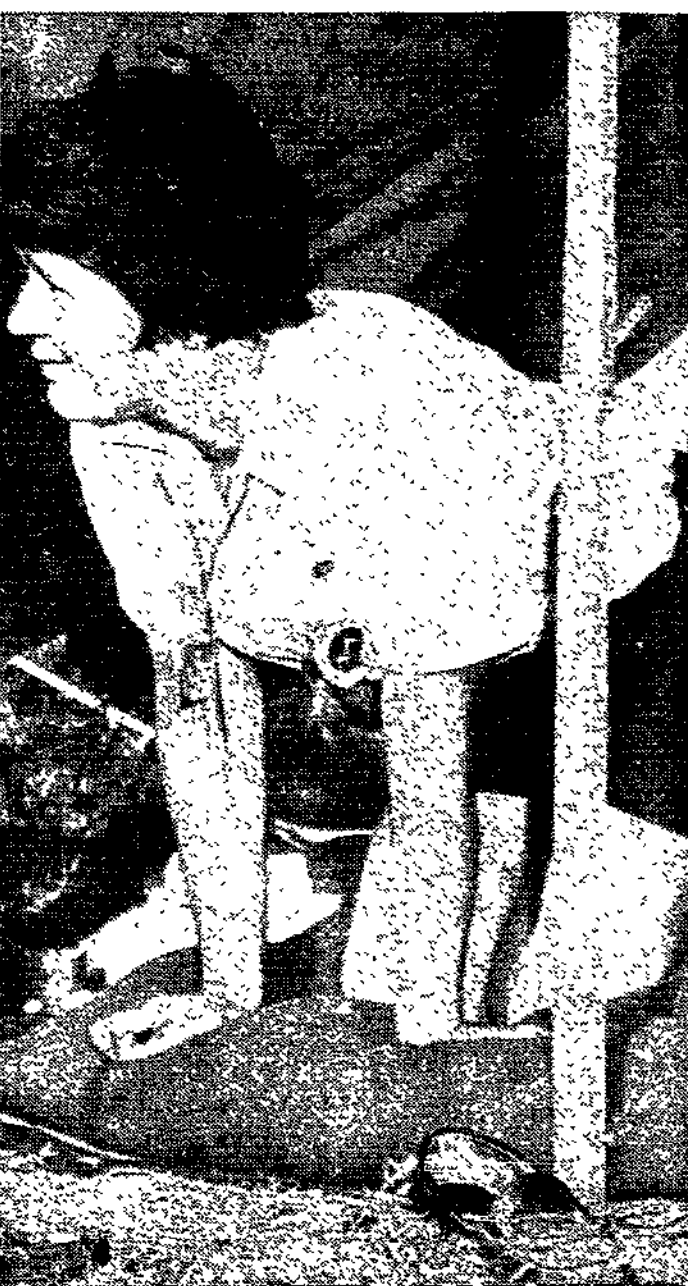

"They said they were very tired," said Cecil O. Barnard, president of Bomb Shelters Inc., which arranged the subterranean honeymoon.

There were people galore—including pickets—outside as the couple recited their vows in wedding finery and went underground.

Five placard-carrying women identified themselves as members of the Greater Miami Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy. One said the underground honeymoon was "a promotion for financial gain that prepares people psychologically for war."

The couple's quarters are 8 feet wide, 14 feet long and 7 feet, 7 inches high, equipped with cooking and toilet facilities, food, electricity and a telephone—unlisted. They have a radio but no TV set.

Bedtime at Scout Roundup

Jean Stewart, 15, of North Warren, gets down on all fours to get into her roundup tent at Colorado Springs, Colorado, where the 1959 Girl Scout Senior Roundup was held from July 3 to 12. The 10,000 campers at the largest international camp ever sponsored by the Girl Scouts, included 8,500 teen-age girls, 14 through 17 years, and 1,500 adults, representing all sections of the United States, its territories and 27 other countries. Activities ranged from educational to recreational, nature and geology studies, star gazing, satellite tracking being listed on the program. Each patrol of eight campers gave demonstrations of historic events representing the home community, also trading "swap" items of local and regional interest. Rumblings Indicate More Trouble in Store for Gov. Lawrence's Fiscal Program

HARRISBURG (AP)—Rumblings in the state Senate indicate further trouble ahead for Gov. Lawrence's fiscal proposals for the 1959-61 biennium, even if the House reaches agreement soon.

Sen. Edward J. Kessler (R-Lancaster), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, served notice he will fight for some 63 million dollars in budget cuts and for a 25 to 30 million dollar increase in tax estimates.

The two items were topics of discussion last week by the bipartisan House Budget-Tax Conference Committee.

Sen. James Berger (R-Potter), Senate majority leader, said findings of the conference committee were discussed at the regular Sunday night meeting of Republican Legislative leaders.

But, he added, nothing definite was decided and further action on the fiscal stalemate will be up to the full Republican membership of both houses.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, House minority leader, said the conference committee findings would be submitted to the GOP caucus on Tuesday. The Legislature reconvenes today, but the House planned only a brief session before going on its bi-annual picnic.

Johnson expressed hope for early settlement of the long-standing budget-tax battle and adjournment by Aug. 15.

The House conferees, without disclosing details, indicated they had reached an area of agreement on what various tax proposals would yield.

There was no indication however whether they closed the gap on estimated tax needs for the next two years. The Lawrence administration has held firm to its contention 207 million dollars in new revenue is needed. The Republican estimate was 115 millions.

Kessler said over the weekend that his proposed cuts in Lawrence's $1,873,000,000 budget "are pretty well spread across the board and we honestly believe that (Turn to Page Ten)

Circling Airliner Causes Confusion Over Idlewild

By MARK SHEEHAN
NEW YORK (AP)—"Ignorance and confusion" ruled at Idlewild Airport while a crippled jet airliner with 113 persons aboard circled the field, the city fire commissioner charges.

Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. said Sunday that city firemen got little or no cooperation from Port of New York Authority personnel who run the airport. Instead, he said, they encountered an arrogant attitude.

The Pan American World Airways plane, which dropped part of its landing gear just after taking off for London, circled the field for four hours before making a safe emergency landing early Sunday.

Austin J. Tobin, executive director of the Port Authority, responded hotly to Cavanagh's criticism. He said the fire commissioner had made an attempt "to besmirch a magnificent feat."

BANKING OF FURNACES IS UNDERWAY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—With hopes dimmed for averting a nationwide steel strike at midnight Tuesday, steel companies today began the job of shutting down their plants.

Facilities cannot be shut off by pressing a button. It's a job that takes much time and considerable caution to avoid damage to costly equipment.

Most steel firms like at least three days to shut down a blast furnace. The job of starting up again takes even longer—sometimes as long as two weeks.

In preparing for a shutdown, producers usually bank open hearth furnaces and coke ovens first. They require cleaning and gradual reduction in heat.

Usually the giant furnaces are cleaned of iron and banked with coke to keep some heat in them during idle period. Coke ovens either have to be cleaned out and the heat gradually reduced or else scheduled for slower production.

Open hearth furnaces, where steel is produced, can be taken out of operation in something less out of operation in something less than a day but the care needed is just as great as in the case of blast furnaces.

Maintenance of equipment is another problem. In some instances the job falls to supervisory company personnel who are usually locked in the plant.

One Killed, Three Hurt in Gunfire During Services

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A burst of automatic gunfire broke the Sunday calm at the Tulsa Baptist Temple. One person was killed and three were wounded.

J. R. Swarb, 34, a self-service laundry operator, threw down his .25 caliber automatic pistol when cornered by a traffic policeman.

The berserk gunman fired at least six shots into the congregation just before the start of morning worship. Services resumed with a visiting minister in the pulpit.

Police Commissioner Robert L. Mawhinney said Swarb tried to kill his ex-wife's husband, Kenneth Starnes, 33. Instead he fatally wounded his ex-wife's mother, Viola M. Bridges, 49.

Starnes was critically wounded. His wife, Earlene Starnes, 31, was shot in a leg. Cornelia Bragg, 58, wife of the U.S. commissioner (Turn to Page Ten)

Girl Says She Set Fire That Killed Seven in Family

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Jane Shusko admits setting the fire that killed seven members of her family, police say, but she doesn't know why.

"From her statement, the girl didn't appear to have been mad at anyone of the family, nor was she holding a grudge of any kind," said Police Captain J. William Maloney.

Jane's brother and six of her eight sisters died of asphyxiation in their second-floor bedrooms Saturday night.

Jane escaped with her mother, Lillian. Two other daughters were rescued by a neighbor. Michael Shusko, the father, was at work in a milk-processing plant.

Police Chief Eugene Golden said Jane had signed a statement that she had thrown a lighted match on a pile of papers in a first-floor clothes closet. She also admitted having lit two fires the previous day.

Maloney said she would be held in jail for court-ordered psychiatric tests.

Neighbors described the girl as a friendly, hard working and well-mannered child who had been given much responsibility in the care of the children.

Inflation Hitting English Language

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Police officer David Westley thinks inflation has hit the English language.

Westley, who remembers when people used to say, "for two cents I'd" and so on, was writing out a ticket for a 19-year-old motorist Saturday night when he distinctly heard him say: "For 15 cents I'd sock you in the nose."

Teen-Agers Admit Robbing Canadian Bank of $71,529

OTTAWA (AP)—The staff at a Toronto-Dominion Bank branch here tried today to straighten out the institution's cash position and find out for themselves just how much is missing. "That's the first thing we have to do," said Manager Jack Rooney, who cut short a holiday after hearing reports Sunday night that one of his tellers told San Diego, Calif., police he took more than $70,000 from the till. The bank was unable to start checking the cash until a time clock permitted opening the vault.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Two Canadian teen-agers admitted to police and a television audience their theft of $71,529 from an Ottawa bank.

They said the idea came to them two weeks ago "out of the clear blue sky."

The youths, both from the community of Eastview near Ottawa, are Richard Boudreau and Gerald Leclerc. They are 19.

They were arrested Sunday as they attempted to cross the border into Mexico.

Police said Boudreau and Leclerc told them the money would not be missed by the Toronto Dominion Bank until it opened for business today.

D. D. Meucher, chief of police inspectors, said they told him of plans to establish themselves in business in Mexico and "become respectable again."

In a television interview, Boudreau, who was a teller at the bank, said "stealing the money was easy."

Leclerc said they drove to a place about 60 miles from Ottawa where they met a friend, who took them across the U.S. border, concealed in the trunk of his car.

Their plan was upset when they arrived at the Mexican border in a taxicab driven by a woman.

The cab driver, unidentified, told police that her passengers had luggage in the cab. This led patrolman Richard Wolfe to look into the suitcase holding the money.

Another Armed Revolt In Honduras Crushed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department reports that for the second time in two months the Honduran government has crushed an armed revolt led by the same man.

The department quoted the U.S. Embassy in Tegucigalpa as saying Sunday's revolt was short-lived but that there was heavy firing in the area around police headquarters in Tegucigalpa.

The embassy said government troops and police beat back the attack, launched with a few pieces of field artillery as well as rifles and pistols.

The reports named the leader of the revolt as Armando Velasquez Cerrato, former army chief of staff, and said by agreement he was permitted to leave the Central American country again.

Velasquez led an attack by 500 rebels last May 11 on Gracias, a state capital in western Honduras. Those rebels were driven into the mountains and Velasquez reportedly took refuge in Costa Rica.

Five Dead in Crash of Plane Over Colorado

IGNACIO, Colo. (AP)—A Chicago industrialist and an Iowa family of four died in the crash of an airplane high in the southwestern Colorado mountains Sunday.

Authorities said Kenneth B. Ross, president of the Ross Mfg. Co. of Chicago, apparently tried to fly his two-engine plane over a mountain ridge when it stalled, crashing in a heap.

The other victims were Betty Mink, 40, of Washington, Iowa; her son, Daniel, 17, and her two younger daughters.

Writer Says Kozlov Can Turn Tour Into Useful Purposes

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov wished the American people "peace and prosperity" today. Then he stepped aboard a Soviet jet plane and took off for Moscow.

In a brief message at the airport he said one of his chief impressions of his visit to the United States is that "the American people as the Russian people are striving for eternal peace between our two countries."

Kozlov said Sunday he agreed with Premier Khrushchev's prediction—made in a televised interview—that the grandchildren of present-day Americans would live in a Socialist society.

Frol Romanovich Kozlov can turn the results of his two-week tour of the United States to a useful purpose. He is now in a position to advise his boss, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev against any fatal miscalculation regarding the strength and intentions of this country.

It was the Soviet first deputy premier's first venture in his totally indoctrinated adult life outside the Communist orbit. It would have been difficult for him not to be impressed by what he saw in the United States.

To a news conference on the eve of his departure for Moscow he insisted his trip did not change his mind about one thing: that the United States someday will live under a Soviet-like system. (Turn to Page Ten)

NEGOTIATORS RESPONDING TO WHITE HOUSE APPEAL START BARGAINING AGAIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Union and industry negotiators responded to a White House request today and agreed to resume stalled steel talks at once.

The two sides said they would begin bargaining again at noon in an effort to avert a strike at midnight Tuesday.

The bargaining talks had broken off Sunday with no further negotiating sessions scheduled.

President Eisenhower this morning urged both sides to resume the meetings to try to reach a strike-saving solution.

David J. McDonald, union president, met briefly with the union's executive board and then telephoned R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, to arrange the resumption of talks.

The industry already was banking furnaces and slowing production ready for the expected strike, which industry and union sources said could be the longest in steel history.

Three days are normally required for a big steel plant to make an orderly shutdown without damaging equipment.

The Steelworkers Union rejected a renewed proposal by the industry that the contract be extended beyond Tuesday midnight. After President Eisenhower had intervened, the industry and union agreed to a two-week extension beyond the original June 30 expiration date.

McDonald said, "The industry does not want to negotiate and does not want to make an agreement." In view of that, he said, a further contract extension would be pointless.

The industry said a new and indefinite contract extension would be "the only practical way" to prevent a strike.

The industry refused to grant any wage or other concessions unless the union agreed to give the firms leeway to make cost-cutting work practice changes.

The union offered to engage in an industry-union study of questioned work practices but it refused to make any such trade.

The deadlock came after two fruitless negotiating sessions Sunday. McDonald accused R. Conrad Cooper of U.S. Steel Corp. and other industry negotiators of "walking out" and refusing further bargaining sessions today. Cooper said his group is willing to meet anytime, but agreed that no further talks were scheduled.

The time is too short for President Eisenhower to invoke the emergency procedures of the Taft-Hartley law to avert a Tuesday midnight walkout by 500,000 workers in plants making (Turn to Page Ten)

Situation Is Discussed at White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today appealed to both sides in the steel wage dispute to continue to strive for a settlement and avert a strike.

Eisenhower's appeal was voiced through his press secretary, James C. Hagerty.

It came after apparent collapse of negotiations Sunday. The Steelworkers Union has threatened a strike Tuesday at midnight.

Hagerty said Eisenhower conferred today with Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell regarding the threatened strike. He gave no details regarding the conference. (Turn to Page Ten)

"Fling at Crime" Was Fascinating While It Lasted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Iain Anthony Hemensley, self-styled gentleman burglar who reaped a fantastic haul working in daylight, knew all along he'd eventually wind up where he is today—in jail.

But the dapper visitor from Southern Rhodesia—credited with making off with between $50,000 and $100,000 in loot in six months—says his fling at crime "was fascinating while it lasted."

Hemensley, in the United States on a visitor's visa, told police he committed at least 50 burglaries during his stay, striking at the homes of the rich while they were away. Addresses Zsa Zsa Gabor and Rosemary Lane are listed among his victims. "I got away with it for a long time," he said, because of a Japanese philosophy which I applied to crime. You take the obvious and reverse it, and then do the obvious and it remains unobvious."

One of the obvious things about Hemensley's routine—outside the fact he worked in daylight—was the way he went to work. He drove to and from his jobs in a flashy white convertible. Trouble is, the car was stolen and a patrolman, Don Ferguson, spotted Hemensley driving it Sunday. That's how he landed in jail.

Shooting Victim Foster Son Of Sugar Grove Area Couple

Court martial trial in Heidelberg, Germany, entered final stages over the weekend as a 19-year-old brunette German secretary told a general court-martial Friday she had never been friends with Pvt. Donald G. Bruner, 19, of Richmond, Calif., charged with the rifle slaying of Joseph C. Darling, formerly of RD 3 Sugar Grove.

Both men, members of U. S. Army stationed in Germany were on guard duty the night of the March 21 when Darling was shot and killed.

It is believed that they were dating the same girl, an argument and the shooting ending the triangle affair.

Ursula Martin testified that she drove to the ammunition dump the night Pvt. Darling, 19, was killed while on guard duty. Bruner was on duty with the dead man at a nearby post.

Prosecution claims that Bruner shot Darling in an argument over the girl. When the trial first started some days ago, the California youth pleaded insanity, which was ruled out.

Breaking of the court martial story, prompted news reporters to search for details concerning the death. It was learned that attempts by Family Service and Children's Aid of Warren to claim his body were unsuccessful. The victim was claimed by his mother, Mrs. Alberta Woodard of Ercot, burial taking place there. Incident of his death was not learned here, outside of the family, until last week.

Joseph Darling was born Feb. 11, 1940 and at the age of two years, was in care of Family Service and Children's Aid of Warren, formerly known as just Children's Aid.

His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Darling, live on Jackson Run Road.

He was placed in several boarding homes throughout following years by the Aid. In

JOSEPH C. DARLING Shooting Victim

1943 he went to the Alfred Atkins home at RD 3 Sugar Grove where he lived for six years. He returned to the Atkins home, which he considered his real home, off and on until he entered the service on July 8, 1958, taking basic at Fort Knox.

About October or November, the youth was sent to Germany, where he was stationed until the time of his death.

Family Service and Children's Aid, which took custody of Darling for nearly 17 years, is supported by an endowment fund and from contributions to Community Chest. Darling was just one of many children placed in homes by the Aid.

Today, the Aid has five children in adopted homes and two in boarding homes. If a mother is taken ill and there is no ready means of taking care of her children, Children's Aid will either place the children in homes until the mother is well, or find a housekeeper to stay at home with the children.

Family Service and Children's Aid is a private agency. Either families come to them for services, or the court directs cases to their care.

Two Last Place Showings Scored By Cornplanters

Casey had a bad day at the bat, but the Mudville slugger had nothing on the Cornplanters Drum and Bugle Corps.

The usual top-placing corps, competing in their first Class A field show of the season and a standstill competition this weekend, pulled two last place showings.

At Falconer Saturday night, the Cornplanters placed a disappointing fifth. It not only disappointed the Cornplanters, the decision was "ooched", "sashed", and moaned at by several thousand of the spectators. The Cornplanters were 4 of a point off the fourth place corps, The Tri-County Cavaliers. The Memorial Militaires placed third, Toronto Optimists second, and The Hilton Crusaders topped first place. All-American Judges were full of praise for the "newborn" field corps though. Generous comments were sprinkled throughout the judging sheets.

At a standstill competition in Forestville Sunday afternoon, the Cornplanters scored a 67 in NY-Penn Judging (as compared to the previous nights 72.443 All-American Judging) to place last in a field of four. The Jamestown Vikings topped top honors for the night. Murraysmen of Dunkirk were second and Flying Dutchmen of Dunkirk came in third.

Next week, the Cornplanters will be competing in Pittsburgh for the Class C state championship.

Facilities and Location Of the Y. M. C. A. Camp

By Mrs. Agda Cornwall
The YMCA Camp this year is situated in the midst of the Allegheny National Forest at Camp Cornplanter. It is located about 6 miles from Kinzua, and is about a 35 minute drive from Warren by car.

Campers should arrive at Camp Cornplanter between the hours of 2:30 and 4:00 p. m. on Sunday, July 19. They will be asked to depart from camp before 2:00 p. m. D. S. T. on July 26. Transportation is the responsibility of the parents, however, the YMCA will endeavor to locate transportation for boys who have no means to get to camp.

The filtered swimming pool which is 27 by 70 feet will be the joy of all the boys as here they will enjoy all sorts of waterfront fun. They will also have the opportunity to learn the skill of swimming under the supervision of Mr. Robert Hammebeck, the Physical Director of the YMCA in Warren.

There is also a softball diamond where the boys can really show their skill and learn sportsmanship.

The modern dining room seats 100. The hungry campers will rush there 3 times a day after the busy day of activities planned for them. They will receive the best of food scientifically planned and prepared for them by the capable staff headed by Mrs. Helen Lawson, Chief Cook at the North Warren Elementary School. The dining room also doubles as a rainy day assembly hall where all join in fun such as; movies, games, pillow fights, boxing and dramatics. All in all the boys can really show off their talents.

The eight cabins, which hold 12 boys plus the staff, are well equipped and clean. Each cabin has two bedrooms plus a reception area where the boys may relax and read or visit with all their new made friends. Each boy brings his own bed linen or sleeping bag, and, you may be certain the beds will be a welcome sight for the boys after their day of sun, fun, and many activities.

Religion in the News

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer
STONY POINT, N.Y. (AP)—The Virgin Mary looked Japanese. Joseph spoke with a Portuguese accent. The Angel Gabriel was a dark, mustachioed East Indian.

It was opening night at the Barn Playhouse, a fledgling summer stock theater for strictly religious drama, sponsored by the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

The chief function of the playhouse is not to make money or develop actors but to train fraternal workers (formerly called missionaries) in handling religious drama programs overseas.

"There is a strong need for good religious drama to supplement preaching in the foreign field," says playhouse director, the Rev. Norman Gano, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in nearby West Haverstraw.

"Drama involves the audience in an action which is something a sermon cannot do. What better way is there to put across the Christian message than in a simple play written in the dramatic style peculiar to local culture?"

For this reason, plays produced by the Barn are foreign in origin and many of the actors are fraternal workers or students from such places as Holland, India, Japan, Brazil or the Philippines.

One of the plays, the last of the short season ending July 24, is from Thailand, an interpretation of Genesis originally written in the Thai language. Another is Dutch. The Rev. Mr. Gano, who directs and acts in some of the plays, is a former professional actor who appeared with the Hedgerow Theater in Philadelphia and, for a time, in off-Broadway's "Three Penny Opera."

He sees nothing strange in being an actor-minister.

"After all," he says, "Church and Drama are the same in purpose. Each seeks to lift man, to help him find a better way. The theater is a spiritual medium. Everyone who's been in the theater knows that."

The unpaid actors who take part in Barn productions really learn the theater from the ground up. In addition to moving scenery and sweeping floors some even helped transform the century-old barn into a playhouse.

A good deal of the theater equipment is either second hand or purchased new at cut-rate prices. The heavy blue side curtains served on Broadway at one time and were cut down to fit. "It's good practice for setting up overseas drama programs," says the Rev. Mr. Gano. "We had to make do with what we've got. We built a lot of the equipment ourselves."

Opening night drew an audience of about 75 people, a pleasant surprise for the Rev. Mr. Gano. "I'd be happy if we have 20 or 25 at each performance." There was no admission but most left a donation on the way out.

The Panzini business started as a spur-of-the-moment gag about three years ago during a frolicsome afternoon in Toots Shor's fabled saloon. Harrington, then a television time salesman, and a pal took in a number of unsuspecting customers with Pat's fractured English and realistic spiel. Ultimately, the Panzini bit landed him on his first Paar show in January, 1958, where the nation's stay-up-lates immediately took him to their hearts. Guido, during many appearances explained earnestly that, among other things:

1. He had learned English in the Italian submarine service — surfacing behind U.S. warships to watch recreation movies.
2. He was captured because he followed one ship right back to Newport watching a double feature.
3. As an international golfer he figured the most difficult hole was the third on a Tanganyika course where the green is on the other side of a pigny village. Failure of one's two iron, he reported, means pow! — a blowgun dart in the chest.

Harrington, son of a vaudevilian, is not only flawless in Italian accents. He's magnificent in Scotch and Irish brogues, too, but for years his pleasure has been playing out r a g e o u s practical jokes.

As Guido, Harrington—who has never been even near Italy—took in Italian-Americans of the viewing audience and even the U.S. Immigration Service which made inquiries about a man whose name was not on their records. He was finally unmasked. But by this time he had established himself as one of Steve Allen's madmen, picked up a spot on the panel show, "Laugh Line." During the summer he's on "Pantomime Quiz." And this fall he's signed for the Danny Thomas show. Gossip is that Thomas plans to move his own part into the background while pushing Harrington forward. Meantime, of course, Pat has quit selling TV time.

He lives with his wife and two children in the suburbs, plays golf (in the mid 70s) every morning and is extremely happy about life.

The post mortem was in full session after the weekly duplicate game.

Some North players had gone down at three no-trump with a heart lead by East but at most tables South had played and made four spades.

The unlucky expert had also played four spades but had managed to go down and everyone wanted to know how.

It was easy for him. It seems that West had been in a mood to do something brilliant and had selected the jack of diamonds as his opening lead.

This looked like the top of a short suit and the unlucky expert had seen a chance for a swindle play. He had gone right up with dummy's ace, played two rounds of trumps stopping in dummy and led the deuce of diamonds.

East played low and South played his ten triumphantly only to have West produce the king.

South still had a chance but West's next play was the king of hearts. East overtook and three heart tricks set the hand.

Guide Explains Why Body Of Climber Was Recovered

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland (AP)—"I had to go and get him down. I could not stand the sight of it anymore."
"For two years I had the vision of the body suspended on the wall before me. Every time my eyes turned toward the Elger, I had the terrible vision of this abandoned body. It became a kind of obsession with me."
"As a guide and a Christian, I had to do something. That is why I volunteered."
This was Adolf Jaun's explanation of his perilous descent Thursday on a steel cable to remove the body of Stefano Longhi, who died two years ago trying to scale the north face of 13,000-foot Mt. Elger.
Longhi and another Italian mountaineer, Claudio Corti, went to the Elger on Aug. 3, 1957, and had climbed together for a week before their fall. Both were pinned to the mountain face, hanging by their climbing ropes.
Ski planes flew winches and steel cables to the top of the Elger, and a guide was lowered. Corti as hauled up Aug. 11, but a violent blizzard stopped rescuers from going after Longhi. The next day observers scanned the vertical rock wall with telescopes and found the 41-year-old Italian had died during the night.
Attempts then to recover the body were abandoned because of the extreme danger. But the body at times could be seen clearly from Grindelwald and the surrounding valley. A Dutch newspaper offered to finance a new recovery attempt.
Again winches and cables were flown to the peak and set up by a group of 15 Swiss guides. Jaun volunteered and swinging precariously from the steel cable, he made the recovery in a shower of brittle granite. The body had been perfectly preserved by the cold.

Southern Segregationists Lose Ground on All Fronts

NEW YORK (AP)—Southern segregationists lost ground on every front last year, the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said Thursday in a report on 1958 events and activities.
"The year 1958 was the beginning of the end" for advocates of "massive resistance" to the anti-segregation rulings of the U.S. Supreme Court, the report said.
While segregationists lost ground, the NAACP picked up ground, the report said. The organization recouped its membership losses of 1957, it said. For the first time, the NAACP's income from all sources totalled more than one million dollars last year—$1,052,282.30.
The NAACP issued the annual report four days before its annual convention begins in New York City, July 15.
As examples of the losses of segregationists, the NAACP listed:

1. The U.S. Supreme Court decision in the Little Rock school case, reaffirming the original school decision of 1954, "was a serious setback" to segregationists.
 2. The election of a liberal Congress increases the chances of enacting stronger civil rights legislation.
 3. "Even in the South. Sens. Albert Gore of Tennessee and Ralph Yarborough of Texas, both moderates, were elected over opponents committed to defiance of the Supreme Court."
 4. "The closing of schools in Little Rock and in three Virginia cities to avert desegregation further alienated the support of those who valued public education above provincial prejudice."
 5. "The bombing of schools, churches and synagogues turned public opinion against the segregationist extremists."
- Georgia was the first state to require birth registration, doing so on Dec. 19, 1958.

Third Ocean Ship Bringing Wood Pulp to Erie Port

Erie—Confirmation has been received of a third ocean ship to stop at the Duquesne Marine Terminal during July.
Port Director Calvin E. Dinger said Western Stevedoring will serve as agent for a charter vessel to arrive here from Sweden about July 23rd. The ship, either the S. S. Johan Colette or the S. S. Parn, which one is not yet definite, will bring in 400 tons of wood pulp for a downstate firm.
Dinger announced earlier in the week that the S. S. Prins Willem George Frederick will stop here about July 11 and the S. S. Nyx about July 13.
The Prins Willem George Frederick will pick up a load of copes-Vulcan machinery bound for Europe and a cargo of oil products from the Oil City, Pa. area.
The Nyx is due here from Husarna, Sweden, to unload some 800 tons of pulp paper for the Hammermill paper company.

IT COULD BE YOU!

Have you ever thought, when an ambulance went racing by, that it might contain some member of your family? That you might be the patient when it makes its next trip?

Are you familiar with the routine at the hospital, once the patient has arrived there? Accidents and other emergencies frequently necessitate a blood transfusion as the first step in treatment, and an adequate blood bank or "live" donor is the only answer.

A blood bank can only be maintained through active cooperation of the community with its Red Cross Chapter and sufficient donors to meet its quota when the Bloodmobile makes its frequent visits. Here, again, the individual comes into the picture and it is to him the Warren County Red Cross addresses its repeated pleas.

Will you help your Red Cross and the next accident victim by reporting to headquarters Wednesday, 10:00 a. m. to 3:45 p. m., to give your pint of blood?

SUNDAY CURFEW

Another sports fiasco occurred at Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, last evening when an exciting baseball game was called at seven o'clock (DST) because of the Sunday curfew law, with the Pirates leading 5 to 4, in the top of the 9th, one out and one on.

Across the state sports-minded Pennsylvanians were indulging in every type of recreation, some commercial, such as bowling, swimming and tennis, but in Pittsburgh, because of what has been termed a silly curfew law, a close baseball game that could have been decided by another pitch, had to be suspended, with results in doubt until a playoff at some future date.

It is gratifying to learn, however, that down in Harrisburg the Senate is expected to give its approval to a bill that would allow the completion of such league games, started before four p. m. (DST) on Sunday. The present law requires suspension of such games at seven (DST).

For the sake of common sense, if nothing else, this legislation should be speeded into law.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, has had a severe case of doublethink. Five years ago, he says, he did not consider segregation a political issue. Now, he says, he does.

This may seem incredible to those Democrats in Congress already mad at him for criticizing them. The question of civil rights, which includes segregation, has been a political issue many years.

It gives them a chance to ask: "Mr. Butler, you've been in politics 32 years but where have you been?"

Life has not been exactly jolly for the peppery, 54-year-old Indiana lawyer since he became his party's chief of staff in 1954. He has pot-shot at the Republicans ever since. Last week he fired on his own troops.

He said the Democrats in Congress are not doing enough and are playing too much ball with President Eisenhower. They responded in various ways, including the suggestion he shut up or get out.

Over the weekend he cut loose with more of the same criticism of Democrats and also accused Eisenhower of saying too little on segregation.

Eisenhower has never said whether he thinks the Supreme Court's 1954 ban on public school segregation is good or bad. Last week he said he thinks segregation is immoral when it interferes with a citizen's political or economic opportunity.

This is another way of saying when it interferes with a Negro's right to vote or earn a living. But Eisenhower still left unsaid whether he thinks the principle of segregation itself is immoral.

At a news conference Butler said Eisenhower didn't go far enough. He said: "Segregation is immoral period."

He was then asked about a story in the Atlanta Constitution, which reported that Georgia's Democratic chairman, John Sammons Bell, has a pledge from Butler, written on the back of an envelope, that he would not try to make segregation a national issue.

Here and There

Contrary to popular belief, lightning frequently strikes twice in the same place. A lightning bolt is not a single spark, weather scientists say, but a salvo hitting one spot in rapid succession. Furthermore, the bolts favor certain targets year after year. They have hit New York City's Empire State Building hundreds of times, the National Geographic Society says. But occupants aren't worried; the steel-ribbed building acts as a giant lightning rod. Less well protected are the nation's forests where lightning starts about 7,500 fires a year at a cost of more than $25 million. In addition, some 400 Americans are killed each year by lightning. To save lives and property, meteorologists are studying the growth of thunderstorms in the hope that man can some day control lightning. This year scientists will seed clouds with dry ice and silver iodide, record electric currents, and count lightning strokes. Some scientists believe they can now modify the form of a cloud and its electric field, though they aren't sure they can really avert lightning. Lightning has long struck fear in men's hearts and produced strange superstitions. In the first century A.D., terrified Roman emperor Tiberius wore a laurel wreath during thunderstorms in the belief that lightning never touched the plant. In medieval times, church bells rang to repel the "malignant demons" of the storm. Many bell-ringers were killed—the high church steeples attracted lightning bolts. But the demonic belief persisted long after Benjamin Franklin invented the lightning rod. Late in the 19th century, church bells still rang in some areas to ward off the evil powers. In his famous experiment with a kite, Franklin showed that lightning is a form of electricity. A thundercloud acts as a wind-driven dynamo. Scientists do not yet know exactly how it works, but studies indicate that positive and negative charges build up until their mutual attraction becomes so great that a dart of electrons shoots from one pole to the other. The current generates light, heat, and sound. It also sends out radio waves that can disturb a radio listener 4,000 miles away. Lightning bolts range up to several miles in length, but are only about one to six inches in diameter. They flash from cloud to cloud and from ground to cloud, as well as from cloud to earth. A stroke may travel at 55 miles per second. One stroke made lightning history when it hit the table of electrical genius Charles P. Steinmetz, a four-foot dwarf with a giant's brain, on an August afternoon in 1920. Steinmetz decided man could make his own lightning, and soon built the first artificial-lightning generator. The machine had glass plates, coated with metal foil, where electricity accumulated. When they could hold no more, artificial lightning leaped across the discharge path, accompanied by artificial thunder. Thunder is believed to be caused by the abrupt expansion of air particles along the path of the lightning, and their subsequent collision as they return to fill up the vacuum. Thunder "rolls" because sound waves from zig-zagging lightning have different distances to travel: there are usually a number of discharges, and mountains, valleys, and clouds reflect the sounds. Even thunderclods have a silver lining. Lightning, by its quick passage through the air, frees nitrogen in the surrounding air and the gift to plant life is brought down with the rain. In this way, nature spreads perhaps 100 million tons of fixed nitrogen over the earth each year.

Democrats Can't Completely Dodge That 'Spending' Brick

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—It could be that Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson—like the Lady in Hamlet—doth protest too much.

The main burden of their protest now is that their Democratic majorities in Congress are not big spenders as charged by the GOP. They cite figures to prove it.

Senator Johnson says 10 billion dollars have been cut from Eisenhower budgets over the last five years.

Speaker Rayburn says Congress has already cut 350 million from the President's 1960 budget. He predicts the cuts will be 500 million or a billion in the end.

BUT ANY FAIR ANALYSIS OF THIS record for next year must take into consideration the fact that it has been made by repeated goodings and threats of vetoes from the GOP.

At the beginning of the session, Senate Democrats proposed a four-year 465-million-dollar airport construction program. The House cut it to 297 million. The President had asked for a two-year 120-million program. The bill finally passed was for 126 million.

The Senate early this session passed a six-year 2.1 billion urban renewal program. The House cut it to 1.5 billion. In conference this was cut to a two-year 900 million program in a frantic effort to stave off a veto. What the President had asked for was 700 million for two years.

On the Development Loan Fund authorization, Sen. J. William Fulbright and the Foreign Relations Committee favored a five-year, five-billion program financed by treasury borrowing. The President had asked for 700 million for one year, financed by congressional appropriation. The Congress backed down.

MANY OTHER EXAMPLES OF ECONOMIZING of this kind could be cited on appropriation bills not yet completed.

When you want to get real Democratic spending proposals, however, you have to go to the noncongressional wings of the party. Democratic Advisory Council and Americans for Democratic Action have both criticized congressional Democrats for tight-fistedness.

The Advisory Council under former Secretary of State Dean Acheson recommends a stepped-up national defense program that would add 7.5 billion a year for four years to the defense budget.

For real Democratic frenzied finance, however, it is necessary to consult Leon H. Keyserling, who was chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors under President Truman. For the last seven years, he has been correlating data just issued in a new study on "Inflation—Cause and Cure."

Viewing Harrisburg

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (AP)—The Commonwealth's new, streamlined bookkeeping system is starting to pay off in nuggets of interesting statistical information.

For the first time, we have precise figures on how much the Commonwealth spends for salaries, postage, food, insurance and even smaller items like newspaper advertising ($670,000) and livestock ($33,309).

It started two years ago when then Gov. Leader ordered his secretary of administration to install accounting procedures that are simple even to the layman and show at a glance how the state's finances stand daily.

They haven't quite reached that point but the balance sheet for the two-year fiscal period ended last May 31 included an unprecedented "comparison of expenditures by object."

It shows the state spent nearly 31½ millions on food in the past two years. That's principally for the thousands of patients in mental hospitals, prison inmates and for cafeterias at state institutions used by state employees. Meal allowances are a form of salary at some of these places.

Did you know the state's telephone and telegraph bills run about $2,700,000 every two years and that postage costs are $1,806,000?

The salaries for the Commonwealth's more than 70,000 employees (exclusive of the Highways Department which operates on a separate fund) totaled more than 300 million dollars in the past two years.

Traveling expenses for these employees on out-of-town assignments amounted to nearly 7½ million dollars.

The cost of insurance, surety and fidelity bonds, previously lost in the maze of countless ledger pages under the old bookkeeping system, turns out to be $1,770,719 for a two-year period.

A hefty $13,700,000 as spent by the Commonwealth in the previous biennium for light, heat, power, water, sewage and fuel.

The largest single item of all was $601,221,000 in grants to local governmental units for the most part school districts. Other grants and subsidies totaled $126,788,000.

TARGETS FOR LIGHTNING
base.
There are many reasons why lightning is feared. Too many persons have had close calls when nature's bombardment struck nearby. Every month we read of deaths and extensive fires caused by this phenomenon.
Lightning represents a discharge of atmospheric electricity from one cloud to another. The best targets here-below are the highest projections. In many areas, the church spire is most vulnerable whereas in New York City we may assume that the Empire State Building wins the prize. Occupants of the building are safe because it is well grounded.
There is no better protection against being struck than a large metal building or a dwelling equipped with a lightning rod. A single tree, a shack, fence, pole, or a human being becomes the best target, especially on a prairie or lake, or in a cornfield, or park. This explains why a storm is more hazardous to the vacationer or farmer than to the man or woman walking down Manhattan's Fifth avenue.
Many golfers and fishermen have been killed by lightning. The swimmer or person in an open boat should get to shore as quickly as possible. Stand in the woods but not under a lone tree. Better yet, look for a house but don't stand near an open door, window, or fireplace.
Hunters, hikers, and picknickers should do the same or head for a cave, depression in the ground, or the foot of a deep overhanging cliff. The alternative is to get into a car or lie flat on the ground, as it is better to get wet than toasted.
Don't touch wire fences or the pin that holds the flag in the middle of the golf green. Those who have been stunned by lightning require artificial respiration. Oxygen is administered when it is available.
The United States Weather Bureau is studying ways to prevent lightning. The form of the cloud and its electrical field can be modified by feeding silver iodide or dry ice into a cloud base.
There is no way of knowing whether lightning actually is averted by these maneuvers or trouble is created elsewhere by upsetting the atmospheric balance. If the problem of lightning control could be solved, many lives and millions of dollars in forests and buildings could be saved.
Dr. Van Dellen will answer letters by mail on medical subjects, if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

FLU HANGS ON
E. L. writes: Can chronic influenza be cured?
REPLY
This depends upon what is meant by chronic flu. I assume you refer to an attack of flu that fails to subside in such instances, a secondary infection, or a complication usually exists. For example, infection may spread to the sinuses or the kidneys. Influenza often is followed by marked fatigue and injections of vitamin B or of B12 may have a tonic effect.
NONJERKING KNEE
J. Z. writes: Does lack of a knee jerk mean anything?
REPLY
Some persons have active knee reflexes, whereas others have none. A neurological lesion is suspected when the reflex is lacking on one side but is normal on the other. The absence of a reflex also has meaning when other neurological signs coexist.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Common stocks are odds-on favorites with the pros who handle the personal trust accounts in American bank and trust companies.
The Trust Division of the American Bankers Assn. estimates today these funds total 49½ billion dollars. And the banks have invested 30½ billion of this, or 62 per cent, in common stocks.
But who's responsible for the investments makes quite a difference.
Of the 30½ billion in common stocks, 18½ billion is in funds where the bank has no investment responsibility or shares it with others. Where the bank has sole responsibility, the common stock holding comes to 12 billion dollars, or 39 per cent of the total.
Since the survey of the funds as at the end of 1958 was the first to be made, ABA has no comparison figures. It cannot say if the amounts in common stocks have been rising or falling, or if the total in trust accounts has been growing.
The survey is based on a sampling from 121 selected trust institutions with a total of 185,000 accounts. ABA says the estimates should be accurate within five per cent.
The report sheds light on some of the investing habits of Americans.
According to ABA figures, the nearly 500 billion dollars in trust funds compare with about 277 billion in the market value of all common stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, with 86 billion dollars in reserves of life insurance companies less premium notes and policy loans.
The report lists 60 billion dollars in time deposits in commercial banks, 48 billion in savings and loan associations less shares pledged against mortgage loans or investments by the U. S. government, 34 billion in time deposits in mutual savings banks and 13 billion in mutual funds held by open-end companies.

Americans have many other billions invested in various kind of government bonds, in corporate bonds, in pension funds, and in real estate.

In handling the personal trust accounts, ABA says, the banks in addition to common stocks have invested nearly eight billion dollars in state and municipal securities; 2½ billion in U.S. government securities; almost as much in corporate bond and debentures; 2½ billion in preferred stocks; 671 million in mortgages and 4.2 billion in participation in common trust funds.

These are funds authorized by law to be established by a trust department to combine money belonging to various trust accounts in its care. There are more than 300 of these in the nation. They aim at cutting investment handling costs.

Garden Club Workshop To Afford Valuable Data for Flower Shows

Warren Garden Club reminds area flower fanciers July 24 is the date set for its Workshop at the YWCA activities building, when Mrs. Emily Stuebing of Pittsburgh will offer instruction from 10:00 a. m. until 3:00 p. m., minus time out for luncheon.

Mrs. Stuebing will demonstrate the technique of flower arranging and all who wish to actually participate in the workshop are asked to bring flowers and containers. A variety of arrangements for use throughout the house will be shown, with special emphasis on design and color.

The instructor is widely known as a delightfully entertaining and inspired speaker, capable of conveying a wealth of information in her lectures, and her coming to Warren just prior to the September Flower Show at the Woman's Club should stimulate interest among those with entries in mind. Mrs. Stuebing discusses arrangements suitable for entry in various show classes, and explains points for which the judges look.

Having a wonderful background of lecturing, Mrs. Stuebing concluded a 7,000-mile tour last spring, going as far as Mexico City and appearing before Women's Clubs, Garden Clubs, teacher institutes, African Violet societies, and garden symposiums.

Her lectures are outstanding examples of the creative artist at work, for, while she speaks, she makes arrangements that demonstrate as well as explain to her audiences. She is the author of a book, published in the fall of 1956, on the subject of "Arranging African Violets for Home Decoration", and critics and readers, alike, have praised the work.

According to Mrs. Charles Tranter and Mrs. Robert Probst, chairman and co-chairman of the Workshop, the affair promises to be one of fun and learning for all concerned. Tickets are available from Garden Club members, at the B and B Smoke Shop and the United Cigar Store, and a good turnout is anticipated.

Those not wishing to work, but only to spectate, are also cordially invited to come and enjoy the new ideas expressed by Mrs. Stuebing, foremost authority on flowers and arranging, judging and instructing.

MRS. FRANCIS M. MASTERSON

Lucille Van Guilder, daughter of Clessen Van Guilder and the late Mrs. Van Guilder, of 315 Laurel street, became the bride of Francis M. Masterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Masterson of 8 Canton street, in a lovely ceremony performed July 11 in St. Joseph's church.

White gladioli decorated the altar before which Father Rocco Tito performed the double ring service at 10:00 a. m. and the ceremony was marked with white carnation nosegays. Mrs. Donald Edinger was at the organ for traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore white silk organza over pink dotted swiss, a crown of indolent sequins holding her shoulder length veil of silk illusion. Her flowers were a colonial arrangement of white ruffled carnations and pink baby rosebuds.

Gowned in white silk organza over pink, rose and dark rose, respectively, attendants were Ann Barrett, Pittsburgh; Betty Gayle Jabo, Franklin; and Lillie Sweeney of Erie, sister of the bride. White carnations fashioned the bride's bouquets.

Completing the bridal party, James Masterson served his brother as best man; ushering were another brother, Tom Masterson of Pittsburgh, and Robert Eames.

Mrs. Masterson, mother of the bridegroom, chose champagne colored accessories with blue lace and had a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Introducing Summer Y-Camp Personalities

John Specht, Jr., 610 Robin Drive, Pittsburgh, pictured here, has accepted the post of counselor at Camp Complanter, beginning the week of July 19.

A graduate of Westminster College in New Wilmington, John majored in music education, and will be remembered as camp counselor for Warren Boy Choir at Chautauqua in 1958, teaching music theory and tape-recording classes under Camp Director Byron Swanson.

Mr. Specht plays piano, will begin his music teaching this fall, and is good at bugle tooting, too. His hobbies are many and varied, going from writing of news articles, to volleyball and tennis. He has participated in dramatics, song leading, glee club work, orchestra, piano accompaniment, quartets, and when it comes to camping, John likes campfire programs, story telling, musical games, chess and checkers.

Mr. Specht, who enjoys working with boys, believes in the ideals of the "Y" camp, and feels it is a Christian democracy in action. He feels that campers become more aware of themselves, their abilities, and their need to share and work with others, as well as learning skills and giving them a love for the great outdoors.

"Y" camp is usually a wholesome place to let off steam in John's words, and he is looking forward to the week at Complanter and his duties as counselor. As John says, "I enjoy working with young people, and just like having them around."

Featured Speakers, Music at Chautauqua

Among featured speakers at nearby Chautauqua Institution this week will be the Hon. Oliver Howard Beale, Australian ambassador to the United States, who will talk on "Australia, Facing East and West" at 8:30 p. m. today.

Listed for 8:30 p. m. Friday is the Hon. Walter H. Judd, congressman from Minnesota, using the topic "Where Do We Stand Now in Our World Relations?"

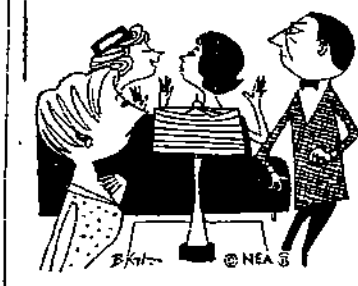

Walter Cassel and Gail Manners, scheduled to appear as Petruchio and Katherine in Giannini's "The Taming of the Shrew" at the Chautauqua Opera opener on Friday, will also be heard in joint recital in the amphitheatre on Wednesday.

Also in the music field, Les Brown and His Band of Renown will be heard on Thursday evening; Muriel Kilby will be pianist for the initial Symphony Orchestra concert on Saturday night, playing the Rachmaninoff Concerto No. 2; at 3:00 on Saturday, a recital will be given by winners of the National Federation of Music Clubs Scholarship.

Chekov's "Uncle Vanya" will be the Repertory Theatre's presentation in Norton Hall at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday and Saturday.

Man 99 Years Old To Unveil Marker At Grandin Well

Titusville Herald: A retired oil man who was born 10 days before the Drake Well came in will unveil the Grandin Well Marker near Tidioute on July 22.

Ed Lutz of Evans City, Butler County, was a driller and contractor for over 50 years. He was born Aug. 17, 1859.

Mr. Lutz accepted the invitation of Oil Centennial Inc. to be its guest at the Grandin Well ceremony and unveil the plaque marking the well.

The Grandin is noted as the first dry hole, the first well in which tools stuck, the first well in which an explosion charge was used, and the first oil well in Warren County.

The ceremony at the well will begin at 11 a. m. Wednesday, July 22.

Besides the unveiling by Mr. Lutz, the following men will speak: J. F. Jones, chairman of the board, Oil Centennial Inc.; Ernest C. Miller, historical consultant to Oil Centennial Inc.; William M. Cashman, president, Warren County Historical Society; Dr. S. K. Stevens, executive director, Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission; Harry A. Logan, Jr., president, United Refining Company, Warren.

Despite his age, Mr. Lutz's health is described as very good. He lives with his sister in Evans City and exercises daily by walking downtown for his newspaper. Mr. Lutz dislikes traveling in an automobile, but is making an exception for his trip to the Grandin Well.

Admiral Robert L. Dennison, commander in chief, U.S. Naval Forces, Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean, arrived in Rome Sunday afternoon from his London, England, headquarters for an informal visit with Italian and United States officials.

This morning Admiral Dennison called on the United States Ambassador to Italy, the Honorable James David Zellerbach, and on the Honorable Giulio Andreotti, Minister of Defense of Italy; Admiral Pecori Giraldi, Chief of Naval Staff, Italian Navy; and General Silvio Napoli, Chief of Staff, Italian Air Force.

Tomorrow, Admiral Dennison will depart for Naples for informal discussions with the Commander in Chief, Allied Forces, Southern Europe, Admiral

Charles R. Brown, USN, and with Rear Admiral Frank Akers, USN, Commander Fleet Air, Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

Admiral Dennison will fly from Naples Thursday to join the Sixth Fleet at sea. After conferring with Vice Admiral Clarence E. Ekstrom, USN, Sixth Fleet Commander, he will fly to Nice, France and will return to London on Saturday.

Admiral Dennison is accompanied by Mrs. Dennison, who will fly to Nice while the Admiral is visiting the Fleet, and by his aide, Commander Eric W. Pollard, USN.

Approved steering shaft and wheel installation for a Soap Box Derby car as specified in the 1959 Rule Book is illustrated in this sketch of a typical racer structure. GATHERING MOSS AND CUSTOMERS—Norman Butters' parking lot office in Long Beach, Calif., is probably the most unique in the country. It's a 1930 Packard which Butters, 64, drove for awhile and then put up on blocks five years ago. Wired for electricity, the old sedan has a radio, desk and heater. Occasionally Butters turns the engine over to keep it in shape. When he retires, he plans to paint the car and sell it.

Two Minor Accidents Claim Police Attention

State and local police each had one weekend accident.

Saturday at 9:45 a. m. $550 damages resulted in a two-car mishap at Dartmouth and Lincoln when a north bound auto on Dartmouth struck a car going west on Lincoln.

Lawrence B. Brian, stationed with U. S. Air Force in Montana, struck a car driven by Carl Hagstrom of 214 North Irvine street.

The Brian car then rammed a tree.

Face Interested Mostly in Winning, Not the Records

By DAVE LEHNER

PITTSBURGH (AP)—"I'm not interested in breaking records now. All I want to do is keep on winning for the team," says Elroy Face, ace relief hurler for the Pittsburgh Pirates.
And that's just what the little football artist is doing. He won his 14th straight of the season and his 19th in a row in the first game of Sunday's doubleheader against the St. Louis Cardinals.
Face entered the game in the eighth with the Pirates ahead 5-4. The bullpen baron gave up the tying run in the ninth, but then clamped down. The Pirates won the game 6-5 on Bob Clemente's 10th inning bases-loaded single.
Face's victory put him only five games away from the major league record of Rube Marquard's 19 straight in one year and five behind Carl Hubbell's 24 straight in two years. Marquard set his record in 1912 with the New York Giants. Hubbell set his record in 1936-1937 with the same club.

Retains Title, Jordan Looks Toward Robinson

By MATT KRAMER

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Tough Don Jordan of Los Angeles defended his welterweight championship convincingly Friday night. He now looks toward middleweight Ray Robinson for his next bout.

Jordan, a punishing body puncher, rammed solid hooks into the ribs of 19-year-old Denny Meyer, and uppercuts to the face as he scored a unanimous 15-round decision over the young Portlander in a nationally televised bout.

Several times Meyer appeared about to come down, but each time called on some hidden resources to stay upright. He still was dancing gamely about at the end, flicking left jabs at Jordan.

For Jordan it was his 11th straight victory, his third since winning the title. It makes his record now 46-1.

Meyer, who had hoped to become the youngest champion on record in the welterweight division, suffered his first loss in 21 bouts.

Of the possible fight with Robinson, Jordan's co-manager, Don

Neseth, said, "We have been offered a lot of money to fight Robinson."

He said the offer came from an Eastern promoter, but disclosed no other details. Robinson recently was stripped of his middleweight title by the National Boxing Assn., but is recognized as champion in New York.

Two pre-fight incidents stirred interest in the bout.

One was Jordan's failure to make the 147-pound weight at his first weigh-in. He was 1½ pounds over the limit, and had to sweat it off by exercising. Ninety minutes later he qualified at an even 147, but there was speculation the process might have weakened him.

If he was weak, Meyer would hate to face him strong.

The other was discovery that Mickey Cohen was in town, and had paid a 1 a.m. visit Friday to Jordan. This brought police to sudden activity, for earlier Neseth had said the underworld was trying to get control of Jordan—and the police suspect Cohen of having underworld connections.

Black Knights Tilt Draw Bridge On Visiting Green Shamrocks: 5-3

Ending Bradford Shamrock's scoring in fourth inning with a 3-1 edge, Betts Black Knights got revenge on the Irish with a 5-3 victory Sunday in independent softball play.

Earlier in the season Shamrocks defeated Knights on the local field.

Although Betts sprouted to a 2-0 lead top of first they were down 3-2 in fourth inning after Shamrocks evened the count bottom of first and added their third and final run in fourth.

Local's scoring began with a lead-off double by Schenck, H. Berdine reaching base on a fielder's choice. He raced home on a single off Cummings' bat.

Second run was scored on an error and infield out combination. Irish retaliated in their half making it 2-1 with a hit-pitch, two walks and Cavalero's clutch single. Score remained deadlocked until bottom of fourth when Bradford drew a walk and two back-to-back singles, putting them ahead 3-2.

Black Knights were held scoreless from first to sixth inning when they knotted the action 3-3 with a home run by Tom Letrent. With two away, Letrent socked the horseshoe over right field fence, second time a circuit run climbed the Irish's rightfield wall.

Dark men of Betts won the game in seventh with two tallies off Koebley's single, a fielder's choice to Sorensen, a sharp single by Schenck scoring one and a long double from H. Berdine, driving in the fifth run.

Black Knights will need all the armor they can secure when they meet Jamestown Moose on west side field Saturday. Moose ran up an impressive all-win no-loss streak this season until they met Betts a few weeks ago. Black Knights toppled Jamestown for their first and only loss so far this season. Double-header game time is 4 p.m. for the opener.

Kinzua Still In Front; Wins 9 to 1

Ray Peterson scattered seven hits and smote a round tripper and Don Baldensperger blasted a grand slam homer to lead Kinzua to an 8-2 Chautauqua County Baseball Assn. decision over Cherry Creek at the Creekers' park Sunday to lift its league-leading record to 9-1.

Kinzua hopped on Cherry Creek twirlers Crespy and Booth for an even dozen safeties in avenging their only league setback.

Baldensperger's single scored "Wink" Rickerson, on by a hit, in first inning as Kinzua broke into early scoring column. Two fielders' choices and a walk set the stage for Baldensperger's four-run homer in the fourth.

League leaders wound up their scoring in fifth when Rickerson preceded Ray Peterson's four-ply smash with a double.

In other league games, Jamestown tripped Green Brothers 8-6; Kennedy lost to Sugar Grove 2-1; and Onoville toppled Busti 5-2.

Indian Slugger Is Within Two of Killebrew Record

by JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Look out Harmon Killebrew. Forget about Babe Ruth's home run record for the time being. The guy to watch right now is Rocky Colavito.

The Bronx-born slugger of the Cleveland Indians closed within two of Killebrew's major league home run lead by banging his 27th and 28th of the year Sunday.

The pair of four-baggers, Colavito's fourth since the All-Star break, helped the Indians gain an uphill victory over Detroit and a split in their double-header. The Indians won the second game 8-4 after losing the first 6-2.

The split left Cleveland with a one-game advantage over Chicago's White Sox, who swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 5-2 and 9-7. Baltimore's third place Orioles defeated Washington 5-1 and Boston made it four in a row over New York with a 7-3 triumph.

A Cleveland crowd of 54,727 saw Colavito smash two home runs in the second game, his second coming with two on in the sixth inning to overcome a 4-2 Detroit lead. Killebrew, whose 30 home runs in Washington's 83 games match the pace of Ruth when he slammed his record 60 in 1927, went hitless Sunday.

Colavito has 28 in 81 games. Last year, the Rock walloped 27 of his 41 homers after the All-Star break.

Rocky's four runs batted in helped relief pitcher Jim Perry gain his fourth victory in five decisions. The rookie right-hander relieved starter Al Cotto in the third and allowed no runs and four hits in 6½ innings. Paul Foytack, helped by Harvey Kuenn's two-run homer, won the opener for the Tigers with a six-hit performance.

Jackie Jensen drove in four doubles and relief pitcher Bill Monbouquette hurled five-hit runs with a home run and two ball through 6 1/3 innings as the Red Sox won their sixth game in eight starts under their new manager, Billy Jurges. The defeat dropped the Yankees under the .500 mark again with a 41-42 record.

Field is not limited to these clubs, Russ Dietrich, assistant recreation director points out, since the competition is open to all comers.

Trophies will be presented first, second and third-place winners, players of these three entries to receive individual Oscars.

Team rosters may consist of 16 active players, a manager, two coaches and a scorekeeper. Each club will be permitted one representative at the official drawing, Sept. 10 at 8 p. m., in Jamestown recreation office.

BUYS FIRE TRUCK
Spring Creek firemen announced last weekend they have purchased a fire truck from the Busti, N. Y., department. The truck, which was voted on at the last meeting of the Spring Creek Fire Department, is scheduled to be delivered in the next two weeks. After its arrival, firemen plan to take the present truck and add the tank from the tank truck to it, combining the two vehicles into one. This, they explain, will eliminate taking the tanker to fires as a special piece of equipment since it will be added to the pumper. The new arrangement will give Spring Creek a much improved setup in mechanical equipment. Plans are already being made to pay for the vehicle and it was announced that donations will be gratefully received.

Drunk Drivers Face Court; Two Other Cases Heard

Court cracked the whip today over the heads of drunken drivers.

In Quarter sessions this morning, five intoxicated drivers were brought before the court, along with burglary and larceny charge and another on operating a motor vehicle without consent of owner. Several non-support cases were disposed of.

Drunken drivers sentenced included W. L. English, 222 Eddy street, his third offense. Court fined him $120 plus costs, and sentenced him to 20 days in County lockup. James B. Thompson, RD 5, also got 20 days, cost and a $120 fine.

Gerald A. Smith, Ashville, N.Y., will have his New York state driving license suspended as result of a drunken driving conviction. The court fined him $120, costs and three days in jail, credit one. Eugene A. Bailey, Saybrook, got three days, cost and $120 penalty. Theodor Madigan, 106 Cayuga, must serve remainder of a five-day jail term, credit one.

All drunken drivers will lose their driver's license for one year, mandatory by the State on intoxicated driving conviction.

Harry Rosenberg, Pittsburgh, will be paroled after serving two days of a 40 day to six month jail term for larceny and burglary. Rosenberg has served 36 days of the sentence. He broke into a Warren home June 6. Officers caught him on a back porch rifling a woman's purse.

Robert Lindemuth, Hatch Run Road, was given 30 days and ordered to pay costs for operating motor vehicle without consent of owner. Lindemuth took the car from Riverside Hotel and in a matter of minutes had crashed six red lights, driven wrong way on a one-way street, drove up to and over 70 miles per hour on borough streets, passed a car at an intersection, failed to stop at police signal and gave the officers a 23-block chase before fleeing from his car.

At the same time, he was driving under license suspension, taken away for an earlier offense of driving during suspension.

But Khushchev will be interested in his notions about the timetable for this.

It is likely Khushchev will want as factual a report as possible, to compare it with the findings of First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan, who made the same trip early this year.

The two men probably will differ in interpretation of the things they have seen. Mikoyan is an old Bolshevik revolutionary with a highly cynical outlook toward things as they seem to be. Kozlov is a born bureaucrat, representative of the new generation of Soviet functionaries who know nothing of revolution first hand.

Because he was an old Bolshevik and one-time confidante of Stalin, because he has the look of a reckless Armenian bandit, because he is a man of colorful personality, Mikoyan's visit aroused much more attention than that of Kozlov.

Kozlov is a man without color, and the United States public ignored him.

"Information is reported to have been obtained on the entire range of the research program," Tass said.

The agency described this program as including "measurements of infra-red radiation of the earth and the earth's atmosphere, photographing of clouds over a vast territory, a simultaneous analysis of the ion and neutral composition of the atmosphere and a measurement of the electrostatic fields."

Fred Long of Greenville R. D. 4 reported the storm destroyed 30 acres of corn, wheat and oats on his farm. In all, about 12 farms were hit.

hampered by thrill seekers thronging to the airport by car and on foot.

Airport authorities said there were 50,000 of them, knocking over barriers, spilling onto the field, jamming roads so fire equipment couldn't get through.

Meanwhile, the pilot circled a mile up in the night sky, waiting to make an emergency landing. He worried about the more than 100 tons of airplane, with a landing speed of 150 miles an hour, crumpling down on the broken landing gear.

He was afraid the plane might slew off the runway, or catch fire as the broken gear struck sparks from the concrete.

He didn't know it at the time, but a greater danger awaited him on the ground. At least 4,000 persons lined the runway.

Officials said that the 200 airport and city police on hand were helpless.

Traffic backed up bumper to bumper. All roads leading to the airport were tied up. The jams stretched for miles.

City firemen, with 40 pieces of apparatus, finally reached the scene, but were delayed half an hour getting out on the field.

When Capt. Edward Sommers finally brought the big jet lower and approached the runway, he saw the crowds and delayed landing. Later he was bitter, saying they were the "biggest menace" of the ordeal.

He said rescue equipment couldn't have reached the plane in time, and that there was danger that the big ship would go off the runway and kill hundreds of the spectators.

Creation of Traffic Research Center Near

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence says creation of a traffic safety research center at Pennsylvania State University "is a distinct possibility in the very near future."

The governor disclosed over the weekend that he had directed a study to determine if the state's motor fund could be used for partial support of the center.

Private groups have indicated they will help support the center, which was proposed last month at a meeting of the governor's Traffic Safety Council. It would cost an estimated $50,000 for the first year of operation.

"The proposed traffic safety center could provide the professional and technical knowledge which could be employed to reduce the carnage on our streets and highways," Lawrence said.

Rail Excursion Planned To Canad Sunday, July 19th

On Sunday, July 19th, area residents will have the opportunity of joining with the members and friends of Buffalo and Rochester Chapters, National Railway Historical Society, for a summer rail excursion in Canada. Lines of three railroads in Canada will be utilized for this trip, namely the New York Central from Fort Erie to Welland; the Toronto-Hamilton & Buffalo Railway from Welland to Hamilton; and the Canadian Pacific Railway from Hamilton to Orangeville, Ontario, with the return to Fort Erie via the same routing.

Special buses will be used to transport passengers from Jamestown to Fort Erie, via the Turnway and the Peace Bridge, leaving Jamestown at 7:15 a. m. The special train will leave Fort Erie at 9:30 a. m., powered by diesels as far as Hamilton, where dining cars will be added to the consist of the train. Leaving Hamilton, the train will be powered by two Canadian Pacific Mikados, and these steam locomotives will take the special up the heavy grade from Hamilton Junction to Guelph Junction, where it will then proceed over the Toronto-Windsor CPR main line east to Streetsville. At this point the two Mikados will be replaced by two lighter steam locomotives of the 10 wheeler type, these being hand fired, and built in 1913, for the journey to Orangeville and return.

There will be several photo stops and movie runs on the trip, the two most notable being at the Forks of Credit, where the rail line runs for several miles along the upper part of a beautiful and deep gorge; and at Cataract, where there is also much scenic beauty. At Orangeville there will be time to visit this typical Canadian town, or passengers may proceed 4 miles further with the train to Fraxa where it will be wyeed for the return trip.

The steam locomotive is fast disappearing from active use in the United States and Canada, and this might be the last opportunity for persons in this area to ride behind the iron horse that has meant so much to the development of our country. Also many children have never ridden behind a steam locomotive, and with this trip offering a total of four old time iron horses, the thrills involved should long be remembered.

Full information and tickets are obtainable from H. F. Beal, 131 Buffalo Street, Jamestown. It is suggested that those desiring to go should purchase tickets promptly as space is limited.

INFORMATION ON G. I. INSURANCE

Holders of G. I. Insurance policies who plan to reenter military service are warned by Alvin Guyler, manager of the Pittsburgh regional office of the Veterans Administration not to drop their policies in the belief they will be covered by the so-called "free $10,000 insurance" or indemnity. He explained that the indemnity coverage ended more than two years ago when the Survivor's Benefits Act became law and substituted increased compensation payments for service-connected deaths. The VA official said that it is apparent by the increasing number of military returnees who are dropping their insurance that they are unaware that the indemnity no longer is available. If you go back into service don't drop your GI insurance on the belief you will receive free coverage," Mr. Guyler advised, "because you won't and your GI term insurance may expire in the meantime."

Dear Mr. Lowrey,

RE: Minimum Wage Bill
Last Friday afternoon, a Senate committee released a bill that would extend Federal Minimum Wage coverage to 10½ million additional workers and grant them a $1 an hour. Workers already covered would get $1.25.

Opposition to this bill is very strong and the bill is doomed to a certain death unless these millions of affected workers are informed of the bill and take the time to write their Congressmen and Senators.

The AFL-CIO has been working hard to get legislation like this. Welfare of these underpaid and unorganized workers is one reason for our interest. The other reason is that the low wages of these workers constitute a serious drag on our economy for they are not able to help consume the goods and services that we are able to produce. Lack of this buying power has been responsible for our past recessions and depressions.

For the misinformed who feel that this legislation would be inflationary, may I say that the primary factor in setting prices is what will the traffic bear? Costs are a secondary factor.

Sincerely,
Karl Petersen, Jr.

VACATIONIST KILLED

A 7-year-old Sharon area boy, visiting at the home of his grandparents in Erie, was killed almost instantly Friday night when struck by a car. The victim was Joseph Kirsch, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Kirsch of Masury, Ohio, near the Ohio-Pennsylvania border. His father is a Sharon businessman. Witnesses told Erie Traffic Investigator Joseph Paganoff that the boy ran from the southeast diagonally to the northwest corner of the intersection. He was hit by an eastbound car driven by Wilfred C. George, 48, Erie, police said. Paganoff quoted George as saying he did not see the child until he felt the impact, and that he stopped his 1958 model car almost immediately. He said he was going between 20 and 25 miles an hour. The speed limit there recently was boosted to 35 miles an hour.

State Building Modern Academy Near Hershey

By DICK WEEGHMAN

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania is building a modern, new academy near this chocolate city that is expected to rank as one of the nation's finest state police training headquarters when completed in November.

Construction by the General State Authority will cost $1,359,000.

But the investment will give Commonwealth law enforcement officers a training site comparable to any in the country. It will have firing ranges, drill fields, classrooms, model offices, a gymnasium, dormitories and a day night in a power lawn mower accident at his home. David Silva, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Silva, Springboro, was taken to Meadville Hospital where he underwent surgery. Hospital spokesmen reported he is in satisfactory condition. The boy's father said the accident happened about 7 p. m. at the family home. He said David was playing on a knoll and slid down into the mower as it passed.

stable.
Commissioner Frank G. McCartney already is charting a new training program to go along with the improved facilities. In an interview with The Associated Press McCartney said today:

"My purpose is to obtain the best instructors available as well as to make a study of the curriculum, and to explore the possibility of inviting guest lecturers from state-supported colleges and universities and from the state department of justice."

McCartney said the expanded facilities will mean something to local enforcement officers, too.

"I want to step up the academy's training activity, with the city, borough and township police coming in to take courses," the commissioner said.

The new academy is being built on a 23-acre tract of land donated by the Hershey estates and situated in a wooded area northeast of here. It will replace the existing school housed in rented buildings.

The headquarters will accommodate 100 cadets instead of the present 60 to 65, McCartney noted.
